Notes:
 The IJGA FSA is lower than BGGA because the IJGA students don't historically incur as many fees for tutoring, airport transportation ($75 vs. $150) and other incidentals such as club-fitting. Additionally, IJGA generally doesn't have student golf cart use, whereas for BGGA, 24 students/year in ambassador program do, so this also causes deposit to increase for property damage.
 Transportation and Uniform fees CANNOT be discounted or given away. Additionally, the FSA is nearly sacrosanct to ensure sufficient funds for student life while at the Academy.
